Loss in Ontario in One Year Equals About One-Third of the Provincial Debt.

It will be interesting for the dairy-farmers of this province to know exactly the magnitude of the loss which has been sustained by the scrub bulls who have followed them in the matter of tolerating the disease but throughout the year. Canada May Get A Huge Order

50 Locomotives, 18,000 Cars Wanted by Belgium.

Hamilton Plant Would Get A Share.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—Belgium is contemplating the purchase of 50 locomotives and 18,000 cars from the Hamilton plant. The amount of money involved in these orders is indicated by the fact that the freight cars alone will cost in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, or a total of $5,000,000. The placing of the orders is conditional upon prices being satisfactory.

When the Government took over at the end of the year the unbalanced balance of credits established for France, Belgium, Roumania and Greece, it was decided that in future Canadian companies would be required to finance their foreign orders. It is understood that the car and locomotive companies interested in the order are the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Canadian National Railway, and the Canadian Government Railway.

HOLLAND STATES GROUNDS FOR REFUSING ALLY DEMAND

Laws of the Kingdom and Traditions of the Dutch People Shelter Wilhelm

Not Bound by the Treaty, But Not Anxious to Shield the Guilty

Parls, Jan. 23.—Following is the copy of the Netherlands Government to the Entente:

"My verbal note dated January 14, 1900, given to the envoy of the Queen at Paris, the powers, referring to article 237 of the Treaty of Versailles, demand that the Government of Holland give into their hands Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, former Emperor of Germany, so that he may be tried."

"Supporting this demand, they observe that if the former Emperor remained in Germany the German Government would, under the terms of article 238 of the Treaty of Versailles, have been obliged to deliver him."

"They express the opinion that Holland is not bound to shield the guilty, but that it is bound to respect the laws of the Kingdom and traditions of the Dutch people."

"The Netherlands Government, moved by the sentiments to which in history the world has done justice, could not leave the fate of a man who has committed himself to their free confidences."

"The Government of the Queen is not prepared to believe that the Powers will regard the Netherlands Government as less than a friend and ally."

"THE MIRACLE MAN."
The sensational, heart-rending story of "The Miracle Man," as shown on the screen by the famous Mount-Ararat people, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House all next week, with afternoon and evening productions, commencing at 2:15 and 8:15 sharp. The famous picture is regarded as one of the most powerful that has ever been put out, and comes to Hamilton as the result of special arrangements made by the Trans-Canada Theatre, Limited, to present it in this country.

In turning out "The Miracle Man," George and Louise Tucker, its producer and director, has proven his right to be numbered among the elect. He has handled the striking story with a touch of genius. Interpreted by a cast far above the average, its gripping appeal holds an audience spellbound. The picture is based on the famous story by Frank L. Packard, which subsequently was dramatized by George M. Cohan with great success. "The Miracle Man" is far above ordinary feature pictures.

Recently this marvelous picture was presented at Sing Sing prison, the famous New York State institution, for the benefit of the twelve hundred convicts inmates, and they all declared that it was one of the greatest "crook" pictures ever screened.

So impressed were the convicts by the spectacle, that one of them admiringly stated his belief that "the man who produced the picture was a fourth-time," or words to that effect. This may be regarded as a great compliment, but it must be said in behalf of the eminent producer that he never saw the inside of any prison, except as interested observer.

A priest of "The Miracle Man," which is essentially a dramatic play, was taken to Sing Sing by a representative of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, primarily as an entertainment. Being a crook play, the manner of its reception by a big audience, which naturally would be expected to know more about crime and the ways of criminals—their passions and sentiments—than any other audience in the world, was the subject of considerable speculation at the office of the corporation. Edward V. Brophy, warden, and John F. Joyce, superintendent of industries, told the operator that "The Miracle Man" was the most wonderful picture they had ever seen, and they have seen many.

In the role of Tom Burke, the leading crook, Thomas Meighan, one of the finest work of his screen career, his characterization is flawless, showing the dramatic sense of the really great actor. Betty Compson portrays the noble development of the character of Rose, Burke's beautiful confederate, with consummate skill. Joseph J. Dowling imparts to the role of "The Miracle Man" just the degree of mysticism and other worldliness that is needed to give it the proper atmosphere.

A truly great picture, "The Miracle Man" will entertain local screen lovers in a manner in which they were never thrilled before.

LOEW'S

Seldom has the Hamilton public had opportunity of enjoying the singing of the world's best music at popular prices; and never, probably, has a more gifted aggregation of artists been gathered together than is that which, under the name of Miss Doreen's Celebrities, will hold premier position on Loew's splendid stage next week. This is the set which broke all previous records at Loew's in Montreal recently, and which was retained for an additional week's engagement. This unprecedented proceeding alone will serve to demonstrate the supreme excellence of the offering.

Not only do the several artists who compose the company sing excerpts from the famous operas, but they do something more—impersonate the great ones of the stage in their most brilliant roles. For instance, Miss Cecilia Zavanzi, in her impersonation of the liquid-voiced Terzani singing the wonderful aria from "La Traviata," sings once the topmost E for which Terzani demanded a thousand dollars each time she sang it, refusing to take it more than five times in one evening. Mr. Clabornell, in imitation of the famous Amato, sings the prologue from "Il Pagliacci," directed by Mr. Cavaleri and Miss Pinocchio, who sing, with much expression, the Marseillaise and duet from "Il Trovatore." The best days of the great Diva, Milla, are recalled in the singing of the prison scene from Faust, with Milledred Washington in the part of the renowned star, Romeo Menetti as Boeri, and Mr. Vallanti as Plancou.

The ensemble singing of the company is excellent, and the settings and accessories artistic and beautiful to a degree, no detail having been neglected, and no expense spared, to make this unique offering an altogether outstanding one.

So many have been the demands for seats already that Manager Norther has been forced to adopt the policy of holding no reservations during the engagements. This will necessitate patrons coming early, and making arrangements immediately, if they are to be successful in obtaining accommodations.

IMHOFF, CONN AND CORENESE, THE HEADLINE ATTRACTION AT THE LYRIC THEATRE NEXT WEEK.

aiming for this remarkable attraction. Mary Pickford—the "name" beloved Mary, with her smiles and tears, her loves and hates, her whims and winning ways—will be seen in an entirely new character-pantomime, "The Heart of the Hills," which will be the unusually big feature of the screen bill. She interprets the role of a little mountain girl in a story of the great outdoors. In her fourteenth year, Maria Hawn, a Kentucky mountain girl, decided that books, and not bullets are essential to her life's success.

So thinking, she mounts the family donkey, and sets out to the lowlands to find the strangest thing she has ever seen—a railroad train, which she thinks is a thrilling machine. She is in love with Jason Howerdy, a mountain boy, of his father, and who is unrelentingly jealous of the attentions which Maria pays to a city aristocrat who visits the mountains. After their search for education, Maria and Jason finally return to their mountain home, to find Maria's mother, and Jason's father, leading a cat-and-dog married life. Just as her second husband is about to murder the widow Howerdy, the most exciting moment of the story arrives.

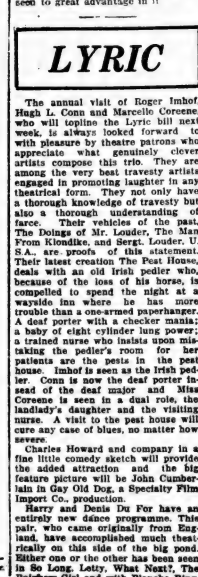

Among the other splendid acts on next week's show are Hal Johnson and a speedy little company, in a farce comedy with music, entitled "Mr. Chaperon," the McElabon Sisters, exponents of real harmony; Martin and Elliott, with their graceful and eccentric dance deluge, and Chico and They Harvey, purveyors of catchy tunes and original nonsense. The supplementary film bill will be an exceptionally interesting and entertaining one.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE COMING.
At Loew's week after next, following Constance Talmadge will be seen as the star of the feature photoplay, "A Vicious Vamp" is the stunning Constance's latest success, and she is seen to great advantage in it.

The annual visit of Roger Imhoff, Hugh L. Conn and Marcello Corenese, who will top the Lyric bill next week, is always looked forward to with pleasure by theatre patrons who appreciate what genuinely clever artists compose this trio. They are among the very best travesty artists engaged in promoting laughter in any theatrical form. They not only have a thorough knowledge of travesty but also a thorough understanding of farce. Their vehicles of the past, "The Doings of Mr. Loder," "The Man From Klondike," and "Serg. Loder, U.S.A.," are proofs of this statement. Their latest creation "The Post House," deals with an old Irish pedler who, because of the loss of his horse, is compelled to spend the night at a wayside inn where he has more trouble than a one-armed power-hammer. A deaf porter with a checker mania; a baby of eight cylinder lung power; a trained nurse who insists upon mistaking the pedler's room for her patients are the pests in the past house. Imhoff is seen as the Irish pedler. Conn is now the deaf porter in the role of the deaf major, and Miss Corenese is seen in a dual role, the landlady's daughter and the visiting nurse. A visit to the past house will cure any case of blues, no matter how severe.

Charles Howard and company in a fine little comedy sketch will provide the added attraction and the big feature picture will be John Cumberland in "Gay Old Days," a Specialty Film Import Co. production.

Harry and Dennis De For have an entirely new dance programme. This pair, who came originally from England, have accomplished much theatrically on this side of the big pond. Either one or the other has been seen in "So Long, Letty," "What Next?" "The Rainbow Girl" and with Blanche Ring.

Elgar Choir

Elgar Choir are particularly famous in having their artists as well as the Russian Symphony chieftains, and appear at a time when the vaccination regulations. The choir will be held on Feb. 5 and 6, with a Toronto Elgar Choir appearance Sunday, the 7th—a strenuous programme which will tax the mettle of the choir.

The memorial concert on Thursday evening will mark the second induction by this choir of Verdi's "Requiem" and "Te Deum." The choir has been such a favorite and so often performed by the great choir of the continent. It is interesting to note that Elgar Choir was among the first in this revival and gave the work in a Canadian premier. In addition of the world famous Russian Chorus, eminent soloists, among them, have been selected to sing the major roles, while the choir has religiously mastering the thrilling chorals.

Boxes for six can be had by applying to the chairman of the trustees board, Mr. M. E. Morton, Bank of Hamilton ($2 per seat).

The second night will be entirely new, and the choir has been selected. The soloist will be the famous Russian violinist, Wasily Basilovitch.

TEMPLE

One of the many enjoyable features promised in connection with "Oh, Boy!" Albert Capellani's "Planned Comedy," co-starring Jans Caprice and a host of beautiful recruits by Mr. Capellani from the various Broadway theatres. The aggregation of girls represents four different well-known cabarets and five current Broadway comedy hits, including "Tumble In," "Good Morning, Judge" and "Lillian Lester," and consists of sixteen hand-picked beauties, selected with a discriminating taste who would do credit to Florenz Ziegfeld.

The girls form a chorus that appears at various intervals throughout the picture, and although bereft of their voices, they disport themselves in a lively manner and make good use of their training in the gentle art of "saw" dancing. The work of rehearsing the girls in the dance numbers was entrusted to Albert Dorris, assistant to Mr. Capellani, who prior to assuming the more or less dignified title of assistant director, spent some years as a musical comedy stage director.

So it looks as if our local picture fans were going to be vastly entertained when Manager Morgan presents "Oh, Boy!" at the Temple Theatre, commencing Monday.

THIRTY DEATHS FROM RAZOR.
A physician in Chicago says thirty deaths have resulted from cutting corners with a razor. Avoid being misled by the advertising of the Gillette and Warr Extractor. Purely vegetable. Painless and sure. In the Gillette Extractor, 25¢ at all druggists.

"Is she really so curious?" "Cut-out." Why, that woman likes to be cut-out. —Boston Transcript.

The specimen was found by Harold T. Martin, curator of the Geographical Museum of Kansas University, in the crocheted chalk beds of the Smoky Hill River of Western Kansas. It is believed to be the only mounted specimen of a pteranodon in any American museum.
